WOUND POLICY

SaskAdrenaline Outfitters works very hard to manage our trophy populations to ensure each and every client gets the animal they deserve for years to come. Because of this we have implemented hunting requirements and equipment minimums to minimize the risk of wounding animals in our camp. Only high powered rifles, compound bows or crossbows are allowed in camp. Any rifle calibre capable of shooting a 180 grain bullet or bigger are permitted for bear camp and 150 grain or bigger for the wilderness camp. At spring bear camp the shots are within 25 yards and a low powered scope or no scope at all are recommended. Minimum requirements for archery equipment are a 45 lbs draw weight with a broad head cutting diameter of 1 1/4" or bigger. Expandable broad heads with at least a 2" cut are highly recommended at bear camp. When each guest arrives in camp they will have to qualify in front of a guide that they are capable of shooting a 3 inch group of 3 arrows at 20 yards with their archery equipment. They will not be allowed in the stand until this is achieved or they have the option of hunting with a rifle that is provided at camp for their hunt. If the guest shoots an animal and draws blood while hunting with SaskAdrenaline Outfitters their hunt is over. If it is determined the shot was merely a flesh wound and/or the animal is seen again the client may continue to hunt.

WAIVER AND RELEASE

As partial consideration for this contract, the guest hereby for himself/herself, his/her heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, waives and releases any and all rights and claims for damages the guest may have against SaskAdrenaline Outfitters Ltd. or any agent or employees thereof or any other person associated therewith for any and all injuries or damages which may be received or suffered by the guest by reason of any event or activity connected with the subject matter of this contract. The guest hereby being aware of the risks, voluntarily assumes all risks associated with this activity and certifies that the guest is physically and mentally fit and capable of participating in the rigorous activities contemplated by this contract.
